

CISM222 : Issues in Computer Security

Outlines the basic tasks necessary for safeguarding a computer system. Topics covered include personal computer security, organizational computer security, internet security and network security. Course explains how to prepare for attacks and what to do when attacks occur.

Credits 3

Lecture Hours 3

Lab/Clinical/Field Study Hours 0

Prerequisites

CISM154 or CISM174