

ESLN075: Fundamental English Grammar

Discussion and practice of fundamental grammatical structures necessary for successful oral and written communication. Students will practice using grammatical forms in academic, informal and other common situations of daily American life. Students will focus on major verb tenses, common sentence patterns, parts of speech, as well as identifying and correcting common ESL grammar errors found through such activities as oral conversation and short writing assignments. Class meets for three hours a week.

Credits: 3

Lab Hours: 0

Lecture Hours: 3

Prerequisites:

Placement Test score into ESLN070 or higher.

Program: English as a Second Language